Didsbury Opera House WED., MAR. 18

A Paramount Picture
Comedy—"Pay or Move"

Farmers Discuss Co-operative Pools

The meeting of farmers and business men in the Opera House on Saturday afternoon was fairly well attended and great interest was shown in the remarks of the speaker who covered the subject of local pools for all produce as it worked out in his district.

Neither of the advertised speakers were present owing to their presence elsewhere, but Mr. E. G. Cook, M. L. A., Honorary President of the Pincher Creek Co-operative pools was the principal speaker and gave a lot of information as to the working of the pools in this district. He explained the contract under which they worked and stated that they had saved money and that their system had worked out very satisfactorily.

Samples of the form of contract was handed around amongst the audience and interest was shown quite a lot of interest by their questions regarding the disposal of all lines of the farmers activities.

A committee of ten composed of farmers and business men was formed to handle the signing of contracts for the three pools in this district.

TABERT—LOEWEN

On March 11th, by Rev. J. E. Bender, Sieberts and Mayton parsonage was the scene of a quiet wedding, when Mr. Joseph Tabert was united in marriage to Miss Marie Loewen, both of Jutland district. This young couple is well known by all their neighbors in the district and friends wish them many happy days. They will reside on a farm 12 miles east of Didsbury after their honeymoon.

AROUND THE TOWN

A great treat is in store for all those who attend the Oddfellows annual ball in the Opera House next Tuesday, March 17th. Don't fail to attend.

Mrs. McNickle from San Francisco, Mrs. Rosenberger from Saskatchewan, Mrs. Shantz from Carstairs and Mrs. Herber of Didsbury were visitors at the home of their sister, Mrs. A. Cressman last week.

The M. B. C. church annual conference meets this week commencing on Thursday morning at 9 a. m. and continuing on during the rest of the week. All are invited to attend each session.

The ladies of the Lone Pine W. I. will hold bazaar and program on Tuesday night, March 17th, in the Jutland school. Lunch will be served and an admission of 25 cents charged.

A concert and dance will be held in Elkton school house on March 20th at 8 p. m. at which a varied program has been arranged. Proceeds to go to St. Eloi Women's Institute. Everybody come and have a good time.

Mr. A. B. Frasch leaves for a few days visit to Calgary on Sunday. He is to appear before the Dominion Pensions Board while in the city. Mr. Frasch is still suffering severely from injuries received during the big war and is entitled to an adjustment of his pension.

Mr. Z. W. Towle, of Harmattan, came pretty near losing his right hand last Friday. He was sawing firewood and the back of his hand came in contact with the blade making an ugly gash across the hand. It is getting along fine however.

Mr. N. Eby, who had the honor of being appointed the first Secretary-Treasurer of the town when it was incorporated, is a visitor attending the M. B. C. church conventions this week. Mr. Eby is located at Alsask. It was in 1910 that Mr. Eby left Didsbury to locate in Alsask and naturally he sees a great many changes.

Mrs. J. A. Russell and daughter Jean returned from their trip to California on Thursday. They report a splendid time although they do not think they would like to live there permanently. Mrs. Russell states that there are lots of people out of work in California. They also visited at Portland and Seattle which cities they like very much.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Piles will be pleased to hear that they have finally settled at Rome, N. Y. They have bought a dairy farm three quarters of a mile from the city which has a population of 40,000 people, consequently they are close to a good market. They are well satisfied and send best regards to all.

FOR SALE OR RENT

Work

Men are sometimes heard to grumble because they have to work hard to make a living for themselves and families, but the man who makes the most bitter complaint is the one who is out of work, is anxious to work, and cannot obtain employment. Not "hard work," but "out of work" is the real tragedy of life.

The greatest problem confronting the Government and people of Great Britain today is lack of employment, resulting in a million or more men living in idleness. The most serious side of this unfortunate situation, however, is not the loss of productive wealth which this army of potential workers might be creating; it is not the financial drain imposed on the Government and charitable organizations in providing a bare living for these men and their families; it is not even the amount of hardship and suffering which may be entailed. The really serious thing is the effect on the characters and morale of these men forced to live in idleness, and on young children who lack sufficient nourishment to develop strong bodies.

Because many cannot obtain work, and the Government was forced to provide a system of doles in order that these people might live, there has been a decided lowering in the morale of many, with the result that as time has passed thousands have become discouraged, indifferent and shiftless, and have reached that frame of mind where they no longer want work and are quite content to drift along indefinitely subsisting on Government doles and charity.

Prevailing conditions give added testimony to the truth of the old saying that Satan finds mischief for idle hands to do. Communism and Bolshevistic doctrines are openly preached in England and the gospel of a workless world taught. Many of those who are at work are ready to strike on the slightest provocation, notwithstanding the fact of thousands already out of employment. Others are slackers on their jobs and deliberately refrain from performing a fair day's work. The result is that Great Britain is having difficulty in regaining its old pre-war eminence in world manufacturing and commerce, and, as a result, industry cannot provide the volume of employment that would otherwise be the case.

European travellers comment on the entirely different picture presented by France and Germany. In both of these countries the gospel of hard work is both taught and practised. Germany is rapidly regaining its old trade and even increasing it over the pre-war figures. A writer, Comyns Beaumont by name, states that Germany's exports to British India, the Dutch East Indies, Java and China were thirty per cent. greater in 1924 than in the pre-war year of 1913; that Germany today manufactures more pig-iron than Great Britain; that in Brazil and Argentina, imports from Germany far exceed those from Great Britain; that in China, East Africa, South Africa and India, Germany's trade is advancing by leaps and bounds, while in the case of India especially Britain's trade is falling off.

Hard work is not a curse, but a blessing. The man who works hard and throws his whole energy into his task is, as a rule, a contented and happy man. It is the idler who is the discontented, the fault finder, the mischief maker. The theory of a workless world being a paradise is the most insane of all fallacies, and that section of the British people who appear to have accepted a state of unemployment as a permanent, inevitable and not wholly undesirable condition, had better awaken to this fact before it is too late.

Nor is it in Britain alone that people require to bestir themselves and come to a full realization of the great truth that in work, hard work, is to be found their own salvation and the salvation of their country. There are men who say, and seem to think, that their country owes them a living. This is not so. No country owes any man a living unless he is prepared to work for it. Nothing of permanent value can be gained in this world except through work, and the man who refuses to work has nobody but himself to thank if he gets little or nothing out of life.

Agriculturists and Farmers

Hon. John Martin, minister of agriculture for Ontario, explained to members of the Canadian Club at Toronto the difference between agriculturists and farmers. A farmer, he says, makes money in the country and spends it in the city, while an agriculturist makes his money in the city and spends it in the country.

Canned Salmon Industry

Canned salmon exports from Vancouver for the year 1924 were 1,525,542 cases, sold in the following countries: United Kingdom, France, Australasia, Germany, West Indies, Sweden, Belgium, British India, Central and South America, Ceylon, China, Denmark, Egypt, Holland, Italy and Malta.

B.C. Lumber Industry

For the fiscal year ending September 30, 1924, the Pacific lumber inspection shows that British Columbia shipped a total of 639,156,324 feet of lumber from all ports. Shipments were made to the following principal markets: Japan, United Kingdom and the continent; Australia, China, New Zealand, India, South America, etc.

Huge Cable Project

The Pacific cable board in London is now inviting tenders for the laying of a second submarine cable from Vancouver to Fiji Islands. This is a project that, counting the cost of the cable itself, which has been in process of manufacture for more than a year now, will run into millions.

GOOD NEWS FOR RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Now Known That This Trouble Must Be Treated Through the Blood

The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the tender, aching joint is a little relief. No lotion or liniment ever did or ever can do more than this. The rheumatism poison is rooted in the blood. To get rid of it you must treat it through the blood. Any doctor will tell you that this is true. If you want something that will go right to the root of the trouble in the blood, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of this medicine is to purify and enrich the blood, and when they do this all blood troubles, including rheumatism, disappear. Among those who have proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. Annie Wright, Woolchester, Alta., who says: "I was a sufferer from rheumatism for six years, and during most of that time my life was one of misery. I tried several doctors, and many remedies recommended, but never got more than temporary relief. The trouble seemed to affect my whole system and I was badly rundown and suffered from headaches as well. Finally, I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and through these I found complete relief and to-day I feel like a new person. I can therefore strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone suffering as I did from this trouble."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Prefers Federal Subsidy

Manitoba's Position on Resources Different to Alberta Says Premier Bracken

Under present conditions and circumstances Manitoba would rather have its federal subsidy than its natural resources.

This was, in effect, the opinion of Premier John Bracken, commenting on Premier Greenfield's announcement that Alberta's fight for its resources had been settled amicably.

The premier stated that Manitoba's position was in many respects different from that of Alberta. So much of Manitoba's resources had been alienated or disposed of by the Federal Government that in this province for the present at least, it was better to leave the matter as it stands, accepting the federal subsidy in lieu of the remaining resources.

Why suffer from corns when they can be painlessly rooted out by using Holloway's Corn Remover.

Canada and the Empire

Destiny of Canada is in Association With British Empire

In Canada there is a deep-seated belief that this country can work out her destiny to better advantage in political association with the Mother Country than in any other way. Political conceptions have changed since the 13 colonies quarrelled with George III. There is no occasion, no possibility of such quarrels now. Canada has everything those colonies revolted to secure, and she has a great deal more. If we cannot make Canada a great and prosperous nation within the commonwealth of British peoples the fault will be our own.—Toronto Star.

Earache, Toothache Now Quickly Subdued

These are the sort of ills that call for a powerful and certain remedy. When your tooth is jumping, when you want ease and comfort in a hurry, you always get that quick relief from trusty old "Nerviline." Many who have proved the unfailing merit of Nerviline call it "King over Pain." Certainly no family can afford to be without a bottle of this dependable medicine. ### Man Has Wonderful Brain

Is Able to Memorize Figures and Words at Sight

Naum Lipowsky is giving evidence of his wonderful memorizing powers before Dr. Spearman, professor of mind and logic, at the University of London.

Psychologists have been baffled by this young man's amazing brain. Imagine a list of figures long enough to encircle an ordinary room. Lipowsky, after once reading them, can repeat them backwards or forwards.

Should anyone ask him, for example, the cube of 63, he will answer without hesitation 250,047. We tested it and found his answer accurate. It is just as easy for him to find the root of a number. As an illustration, if anyone mentioned 456,533, he would reply that it represents three "77's" multiplied.

But the most remarkable fact is his knowledge of days. He has every day of the Christian era carefully docketed in his mind. When asked on what day of the week May 1 fell in 1901, he replied accurately, "Wednesday." "Next year it will be on a Friday," he added.

A Power of its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has a subtle power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

A new Italian locomotive is operated by compressed air so that it can run over flooded tracks.

The man who says he runs things at his house may mean the washing machine and vacuum cleaner.

Speedier Than Swiftest Bird

French Army Officer Files 280 Miles An Hour

A French army officer, Adjutant Bonnet, has just streaked through the air for a distance of three kilometers at a speed of 250 miles an hour, establishing a new world's record. That speed is nearly five miles a minute. It is a rate of human travel which dwarfs any ever reached by any vehicle on land. The fastest recorded speed of the swiftest bird—about 136 miles an hour—is less than half as fast. If Bonnet's speed could be sustained, the ocean could be crossed in ten hours. One could breakfast in New York at 6 in the morning and dine in London at 8 in the evening. One could circle the globe in three days and seventeen hours.

In Every Corner Of All Canada

Men and Women Put Their Faith In Dodd's Kidney Pills

They have proved their value by the relief they have given for over thirty-five years and have friends everywhere.

Marleville, Que.—(Special).—Every corner of Canada holds at least one person who swears by Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have been relieving kidney troubles all over this vast Dominion for more than thirty-five years. They are specialists. They relieve only kidney trouble and those diseases that spring from disordered kidneys. That's why they grow more popular every day. Listen to what Dame T. Cavignon says about them.

"It gives me pleasure to send you this certificate. I was so weak I often had to stay in bed. I was nervous and only got a little sleep at nights. My doctor had told me this weakness was bringing on consumption. A few boxes of your marvellous Dodd's Kidney Pills sufficed for me to completely recover my health."

Dodd's Kidney Pills purify the blood and pure blood carried to all parts of the body means new health and increased energy all over the body.

PLAIN CEREMONY AT INAUGURATION OF U.S. PRESIDENT

Washington.—Calvin Coolidge at the inauguration, calmly and quietly assumed the duties of President of the United States for four more years.

In a brief ceremony, which never deviated from the simple programme laid down by himself, Mr. Coolidge renewed his oath of office on his grandmother's bible, and in a short address restated his government's policy of frugality.

Thousands of people witnessed the induction of Mr. Coolidge, and millions more listened to what he said at their radio sets. His address was to "My Countrymen." In an unhurried, even tone, the president read from his manuscripts steadily until he reached his final declaration that the United States cherishes no purpose "save than to merit the favor of Almighty God."

The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Taft, himself a former president. Mr. Coolidge responded with a firm, yet almost inaudible, "I do."

The gala celebration and expensive trappings of former inaugurations were almost entirely lacking. After the presidential address had been concluded, Mr. Coolidge was escorted by trotting cavalry from the capitol to the White House, where he took his place with his guests in a glass-enclosed reviewing stand to witness the passing of the inaugural parade.

Too Much Overhead

Robt. Forke Speaks of Difficulties Under Which Canada is Laboring

Montreal.—Canadians were living in a house that was too big for them, which they had furnished too completely with railways, canals, etc., and for which they were now not able to pay the rent, said Robert Forke, M.P., leader of the Progressive Party, in an address here. This country undoubtedly possessed great natural resources, but these were not of much immediate value as long as they were undeveloped.

There were great geographical difficulties, he said, notably the 1,000 miles of untenanted land between North Bay and Winnipeg, which, more than anything, was responsible for the existence of a definite east and west. But sectionalism must be killed, and people must think in terms of Canadianism, must accept a spirit of compromise and of give and take, if Canada is to proceed to its proper place, he said.

Will Exploit British Goods

London.—A company is being formed with a capital of $500,000 for the establishment in London and other cities of an exhibition for the sale of model dresses made from English and Scotch dress fabrics. The models will be sold to wholesale houses and particulars supplied of the firms who made them so that wholesalers may then sell to the retail trade.

No One Wants Job

London.—Although Great Britain is paying a dole of 15 shillings a week to thousands of unemployed men, railway officials have been unable for four months to find a man who would take a job as porter in a station at 30 shillings a week.

Fewer Suicides in Berlin

Berlin.—Suicides in Berlin decreased last year to 36 for each 1,000 of population, as against 43.5 to 1,000 in 1923. Efforts are being made to get at the cause of suicide in an effort further to reduce the number.

Prince Albert Claims Crow's Nest Rates

Prince Albert.—The Prince Albert board of trade is demanding that the Crow's Nest Pass agreement be made applicable on freight to this city, basing its claim on the fact that the present Regina-Prince Albert branch of the C.N.R. was operated under lease by the C.P.R. at the time the Crow's Nest Pass agreement was made. The board considers Prince Albert has equal claims as Saskatoon, which is on the same line, to the privileges of the agreement, and is demanding that the discrimination at present existing against Prince Albert be removed.

Seeking Better Freight Rates

Northern Alberta Relying on Sir Henry Thornton's Promise

Edmonton.—Sir Henry Thornton's promise, given at a meeting in this city last August, that discriminations under the Crow's Nest Pass agreement would not be allowed to "continue unduly," is a peg on which the board of trade is hanging its hopes for some adjustment of railway freight rates more equitable to Edmonton and Northern Alberta.

In a wire sent to Sir Henry, following a conference between Sydney D. Woods, K.C., and the board of trade's special Crow's Nest rate, the Canadian National Railway's president is reminded of his promise, hope being expressed at the same time that the terms of said promise may be carried out at an early date.

Marvels Of Science

Photographs of U.S. Presidential Inaugural Ceremony Transmitted By Wire in Record Time

San Francisco.—Photographs taken in Washington of the presidential inaugural ceremony, were received in this city within a few minutes by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The newest electrical marvel produced printed negatives that were as clear and perfect as when they came from the camera, although transmitted over 3,000 miles of wire.

They appeared in early editions of the San Francisco afternoon newspapers. Fifty minutes was the average time elapsing between the snapping of each photo and its completion in San Francisco.

Empire Exhibition Has An Overdraft

£1,750,000 Is Largely Covered By Government Guarantee

London.—The British Empire Exhibition has an overdraft at Lloyd's Bank of £1,750,000. Lloyd's Bank last season enjoyed a monopoly of the banking facilities in the exhibition grounds at Wembley last year, but is willing to forego this privilege if other banks will share the financial responsibility of the exhibition.

The present overdraft, however, is largely covered by the government guarantee of the exhibition which was recently increased to £1,100,000 and the bank has agreed to allow an increase in the overdraft up to a total of £2,200,000.

Embassy in Turkey

London.—The British Government has decided to raise its present mission to Turkey to the status of an embassy. Negotiations carried on between the Turkish representatives in London and Austen Chamberlain, secretary for foreign affairs, were concluded and it is expected official announcement of the elevation of the mission will be made in the next few days.

Adopt Masculine Attire

London.—British women now are wearing men's high white collars, stiff-fronted shirts and white waistcoats with a bow tie. The newest necklace novelty is a string of glass beads with a small electric light as a pendant, which makes the beads sparkle at night.

First Jap Air Mail

Osaka, Japan.—Japan's first air mail service will be started soon between the cities of Osaka, Oita and Fukuoka. Passengers also may be carried. Each piece of mail will be carried for 40 sen (about 40 cents in Canadian money).

Canadian Woman War Correspondent Dead

Gifted Writer Accompanied British Forces to Mesopotamia

Vancouver, B.C.—World famous as a woman war correspondent and magazine writer, Eleanor Franklin Egan is dead, at New York from pneumonia. She was the wife of Mr. Martin Egan, who at one time was on the staff of the Victoria Times, and later did war correspondent work. Mrs. Egan, accompanied the British forces in the Mesopotamia campaign and subsequently toured India, and the Far East. She was a gifted writer and news of her death will cause genuine sorrow in British Columbia.

Using Radio To Spread Propaganda

Daily Programme in Russia Devoted to Political Talks

Moscow.—Soviet Russia has three radio sending stations, at Moscow, Leningrad and Nichni-Novgorod. These are under the control of the commissariat of posts, telegraphs and telephones.

Much of the daily programme is devoted to talks of a political nature. The Bolsheviks take advantage of the government controlled radio to further their party purposes. There is also the usual budget of vocal and instrumental music.

Carry On Good Work

Research Council Gives Aid to Many Activities

Ottawa.—Forty-six research investigations were carried on in 1924, and 19 reports have been made under assistance from the council for scientific and industrial research, the annual report of which was tabled in the House. During the fiscal year ending March 31, 1924, $55,620 was granted for research purposes, out of a total vote of $120,000. Twelve fellowships, eight studentships and 24 bursaries were granted by the council, and work was being carried on with 19 university departments in Canada.

U.S. Congress Favors World Court

Washington.—The house placed itself overwhelmingly on record in favor of "early adherence" by the United States to the world court "with the reservations recommended by President Harding and President Coolidge." The resolution, which requires neither senate nor presidential approval, stated the readiness of the house "to participate in the enactment of such legislation."

Singapore Base Will Cost Million Pounds

Singapore.—The cost of the site of the proposed Singapore naval base was £1,250,000, it was officially stated at the Empire naval conference in session here. It was added that the acquisition of the site had been completed, and the land was being handed over as required. Hong Kong will contribute £250,000 sterling toward the cost of the base. This is the first naval conference held in Far Eastern waters since March, 1921. Much importance is attached to it in view of the defence problems to be discussed in regard to the Pacific.

Will Hold Conference in May

To Discuss Development of Canadian-West Indies Trade

Ottawa.—Preliminary arrangements are under way for the holding of a Canadian-West Indies conference in May. The idea will be the negotiation of a new treaty for the development of reciprocal trade.

Hance Logan, M.P., who recently visited the West Indies as commissioner for the Canadian Government, reports that everywhere the proposal for another conference was received with enthusiasm, and that there was a general desire to send delegates.

Will Terminate Agreement

Western Mines Give Notice to American Mine Workers

Calgary.—The Western Canada Coal Operators' Association at a meeting here, decided to give notice to the United Mine Workers of America on March 31 terminating their present agreement on September 30. Since the resumption of operations in October after the strike, the coal mining industry of the province has been badly hit, many of the mines only working one or two days a week. The present cost of production at the union mines, it is stated, has been largely responsible for the great falling off in business.

Cannery For Winnipeg

Announce Granting of Charter to a Million Dollar Company

Winnipeg.—It was announced that a Dominion charter has been granted to a million dollar company which plans to operate a cannery in the Winnipeg district. The company will be known as the Allied British Canneries and Distributors, Limited, and it is controlled by United States capitalists. Operations probably will be commenced next fall.

In addition to the Winnipeg plant, the company will establish canneries in Quebec and British Columbia, according to present plans.

Prospector Has Narrow Escape

Injured in Fall Down Shaft, Unattended For Eight Days

Dawson, Y.T.—Fred Foss, 60, a prospector, fell down a 30-foot shaft on Gold Creek on February 20, and, although badly injured, managed to climb to the surface and crawl to his cabin. Foss lay for eight days unattended and unable to help himself. He ran out of food and wood for fuel, and was close to death when his plight was discovered. He is expected to recover.

Would End Lotteries

Ottawa.—L. H. Martell, of Hants, intends to introduce a bill in the house, which, if adopted, will cut out church lotteries altogether. Under the Criminal Code as it stands, church and charitable institutions may hold lotteries with the permission of the municipal authorities, when the prize does not exceed $50 in value. Mr. Martell's bill would abolish this exception to the general rule.

Powder Explosion Injures Soldiers

Honolulu.—Eight enlisted men of the United States army were seriously burned, three perhaps fatally, as a result of an explosion at Schofield Barracks, near here. The men were loading shells in preparation for the forthcoming army and navy manoeuvres when some powder exploded, burning all of them.

ONTARIO WANTS TO SECURE COAL FROM ALBERTA

Toronto.—During his address in the legislature, Premier Ferguson spoke at some length on Ontario getting coal from other Canadian provinces.

Even if it meant a deficit for the National Railways, there would be the satisfaction of knowing that the money was staying within Canada, and that interprovincial trade was being carried along as Confederation intended that it should be, the premier said.

He declared that arrangements had been made to bring 100,000 tons of Alberta coal to Ontario on May 1 next, and that in a short time it was hoped to get Alberta and Nova Scotia coal here as cheaply as United States coal was now brought in.

Assessment Tribunal

New Act May Be Submitted in Alberta Legislature

Edmonton.—To make the taxing of improvements compulsory in all the towns and villages of the province, and to provide for the establishment of a special tribunal to deal with assessments and assessment appeals, are the main objectives of a proposed scheme now being considered by the government. It is likely that a new act, embodying these points, will be prepared for submission at the present session of the legislature. A strong delegation for the Alberta Union of Municipalities was in conference with the government, when the question was discussed at length.

Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Red Deer were represented, together with a number of smaller places.

New Earl of Oxford Makes Maiden Speech

Asquith Cautions Allies Against Indefinite Occupation of Rhineland

London.—The Earl of Oxford and Asquith made his maiden speech in the House of Lords. He cautioned the allies against occupying the Rhineland indefinitely, when they had expected to keep troops there for a strictly limited time. France's feeling of insecurity at present, he said, afforded grounds for a comprehensive international pact, in the interest, not only of French security, but of the security of Europe and the whole world. That, he argued, was the most urgent need today.

Interrupt Cock Fight

Windsor, Ont.—Three thousand dollars' worth of poultry is crowing wildly in the basement of the provincial police headquarters here as the result of a raid in Sandwich, when 45 game cocks were seized and the preliminaries for an old-fashioned cock fight interrupted. About 40 spectators were found in a basement where the cock pit was erected.

Supervising Credits

Winnipeg.—Six additional rural credit societies with total liabilities hands of the provincial supervisor of $224,832, have been placed in the rural credits as administrator. Of the 74 societies in the province, 44 with approximately $1,750,000 outstanding, are now being administered by the provincial department, it is officially stated.

Information furnished by J. Frank Callbreath, packing contractor and general merchant, shows that during the 1924 hunting season, parties secured 12 moose, 25 caribou, 26 goat, 31 sheep, 15 black bear and 11 grizzlies in the Telegraph Creek district of British Columbia. Of the caribou, the largest, shot by J. J. Sartori, of Brooklyn, N.Y., has a spread of 47 inches, is 39 1/2 inches long and has 27 points. The largest sheep horns were 41 1/2 inches long, with a spread of 31 inches, and were secured by A. D. Stewart, of New York.

The third annual Eastern International Dog Sled Derby, run off at Quebec on February 19, 20 and 21, was a tremendous success. Twenty-two mushers and their teams from many parts of Canada and the United States competed over the 120-mile course, the race being won by Emile St. Goddard, of Le Pas, Man., who also won this year's derby at that place. The last day's lap was run through a blinding snowstorm, which gave the thousands of sports visitors from Canada and the United States who witnessed it, a vivid impression of normal conditions experienced by these outfits.

Yukon Won Balto Trophy

Struck with the fine qualities of determination, courage and endurance displayed by the veteran Balto, who battled his way in record time at the head of twelve other dogs driven by Gunner Kesson against most adverse conditions into Nome, Alaska, with diphtheria anti-toxin, Mrs. Frank Clarke of Sheephead Bay, N.Y., offered an antique silver plate as a trophy to be awarded to the best husky in the winning team in the Eastern International Dog Sled Derby. The trophy was awarded to Yukon, the leading dog in the Manitoba team driven to victory at Quebec by St. Goddard under the Franquetin Paper Company colors and will be held in perpetuity by its owner. Mrs. Clarke intends to offer a similar trophy each year.

Here and There

In conjunction with the further loan of $3,000,000 for colonization to be authorized by the Quebec legislature this season, it is also intended to raise the bounty to settlers on the acreage cleared. At present the government gives a bonus of $6 an acre. It will be raised to $8 an acre. The province spent $30,000 in this way in the last fiscal year.

The amount of butter exported to Japan through Vancouver during 1924 was nearly twice that of 1923, according to figures supplied by the Japanese consulate at that point. The report shows that in 1924 the quantity was 476,454 pounds, as compared with only 239,695 pounds in 1923. Total cheese shipments to the same destination last year amounted to 2,685 pounds, as against only 40 in 1923.

A recent analysis of immigration according to occupation of immigrants arriving in Canada since 1920 shows a steady increase in the ratio of agriculturists and domestics towards all others. In 1921 the figure was 35 per cent. It was 44 per cent for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1922, 47 per cent for the fiscal year 1923-24 and 51 per cent for the nine months April to December, 1924.

One of the outstanding features of the Grain Commission Board's report for the season 1922-23, was the tribute paid to the excellent service rendered by the Canadian Pacific Railway in handling the western crop. Though the company handled 105,000 cars of grain, it received only six complaints about lack of cars from the railway and commission combined. In 1923-24, with an even larger number handled, there were only eight complaints.

Orchestras from the Canadian Pacific steamships "Empress of France" and "Empress of Scotland", when they arrived recently at New York and before sailing on their round the world and Mediterranean cruises which the company starts annually from that port broadcasted through WJZ a forty-five minute programme of selected Scots, English, Welsh, Irish and Canadian airs, while the "Montroyal", on her return from the company's cruise to the West Indies, broadcasted British and Spanish music through WJY of New York.

A Romance of the Spanish Main CAPTAIN BLOOD RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini.
"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan
in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, is deported as a slave to the Barbadoes by King James. He is bought by Colonel Bishop and falls in love with Arabella, the niece of the colonel. Don Diego de Espinosa y Valdez captures Bridgetown. Blood saves Mary Traill and Arabella. He captures the Spanish galleon, the Cinco Lagas. After escaping from another Spanish ship at Hispaniola, Captain Blood sails to Tortuga, rendezvous of the buccaneers of the Spanish Main. There, feeling that Arabella is lost to him for ever, he takes command of a private fleet and changes the name of the Cinco Lagas to the Arabella. Levasseur, a Frenchman who is in love with Madeleine, the romantic daughter of d'Ogeron, joins Blood. They are to sail together when Levasseur gets word from Madeleine to rescue her from a Dutch brig. Levasseur takes the Dutchman, makes a prisoner of Madeleine's brother, and earns her contempt by his brutality.

CHAPTER XIV.—Continued

Thereafter, what time the Captain languished in his lady's smile within the cabin, Calusac was dealing with the spoils of war. The Dutch crew was ordered into the longboat, and bidden go to the devil. Fortunately, as they numbered fewer than thirty, the longboat, though perilously overcrowded, could yet contain them. Next, Calusac having inspected the cargo, put the quartermaster and a score of men aboard the Jongvrouw, and left her to follow La Foudre, which he now headed south for the Leeward Islands.

The lady's brother was presently conducted to the cabin. The Captain rose to receive him, bending his stalwart height to avoid striking the cabin roof with his head. Mademoiselle rose, too.

"Why this?" she asked Levasseur, pointing to her brother's plained wrists.

"I deplore it," said he. "I desire it to end. Let M. d'Ogeron give me his parole."

"I give you nothing."

"Henri, this is foolish! You are not behaving as my brother. You—"

"Little fool. Don't you perceive your wicked folly in the harm it has brought already? Lives have been lost—men have died—that this monster might overtake you. And don't you yet realize where you stand—in the power of this beast, of this cur born in a kennel and bred in thieving and murder?"

He might have said more but that Levasseur struck him across the mouth. Mademoiselle suppressed a scream, as the youth staggered back under the blow.

"You see," he said simply. "He strikes a man whose hands are bound."

FOR JOY OF GOOD HEALTH

Manitoba Woman Thanks
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Crandall, Manitoba.—"When I was a young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than I could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just seemed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me about it, so I got some. Every month after taking it I got stronger and I soon did not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me other ways. Then when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Compound right along and must say it made a new woman of me and able to do my work, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three babies now. I have told ever so many women about your medicine. Just last week I got a letter from my old chum in the East. Her baby was born fifteen days before mine and she told me she was not feeling very well, her back aches so much, and that she is going to take the same medicine I took. You can use my letter and I hope some one will be helped by it."—Mrs. Jos. H. Kidd, Box 55, Crandall, Manitoba. C

W. N. U. 1567

The simple words, and more than the words, their tone of ineffable disdain aroused the passion that never slumbered deeply in Levasseur. He opened the door, and flung her brother through it.

"Put that rubbish under hatches until I call for it again," he roared, and shut the door.

Composing himself, he turned to the girl again with a deprecatory smile. But no smile answered him from her set face. She had seen her beloved hero's nature in curl papers. Fear growing to panic was written on her face, as she stood there leaning for support against the table. He caught her, seized her in his long arms and pulled her to him.

"No, no!" she panted.

"Yes, yes," he mocked her, and his mockery was the most terrible thing of all. He crushed her to him brutally, deliberately hurtful because she resisted, and kissed her whilst she writhed in his embrace.

Someone knocked. Cursing the interruption, Levasseur strode off to open. Calusac stood before him. The Breton's face was grave. He came to report that they had sprung a leak between wind and water, the consequence of damage sustained from one of the Dutchman's shots. In alarm Levasseur went off with him. Ahead of them a low cloud showed on the horizon, which Calusac pronounced one of the northernmost of the Virgin Islands.

"We must run for shelter there, and caren her," said Levasseur. "I do not trust this oppressive heat. A storm may catch us before we make land."

"A storm or something else," said Calusac grimly. "Have you noticed that?" He pointed away to starboard.

Levasseur looked and caught his breath. Two ships that at the distance seemed of considerable burden were heading towards them some five miles away.

For the remainder of that day Levasseur's thoughts were of anything but love. He remained on deck, his eyes now upon the land, now upon those two slowly gaining ships. To run for the open could avail them nothing, and in his leaky condition would provide an additional danger. He must stand at bay and fight. And then, towards evening, when within three miles of shore and when he was about to give the order to strip for battle, he almost fainted from relief to hear a voice from the crow's-nest above announce that the larger of the two ships was the Arabella. Her companion was presumably a prize.

Levasseur put off in a boat accompanied by Calusac and two officers, and went to visit Captain Blood aboard the Arabella.

"Our brief separation has been mighty profitable," was Captain Blood's greeting. "It's a busy morning we've both had."

The tall ship that accompanied the Arabella was a Spanish vessel of twenty-six guns, the Santiago from Puerto Rico, with a hundred and twenty thousand weight of cacao, forty thousand pieces of eight, and the value of ten thousand more in jewels. A rich capture of which two-fifths under the articles went to Levasseur and his crew. Of the money and jewels a division was made on the spot. The cacao it was agreed should be taken to Tortuga to be sold.

Then it was the turn of Levasseur, and black grew the brow of Captain Blood as the Frenchman's tale was unfolded. At the end he roundly expressed his disapproval.

But Levasseur answered him, as he had answered Calusac, that a ship was a ship, and it was ships they needed against their projected enterprise. Perhaps because things had gone well with him that day, Blood ended by shrugging the matter aside. Thereupon, Levasseur proposed that the Arabella and her prize should return to Tortuga, there to unload the cacao and enlist the further adventurers that could now be shipped. Levasseur meanwhile would effect certain necessary repairs, and then proceed south, await his admiral at Saltatudos for their enterprise against Maracaybo.

To Levasseur's relief, Captain Blood not only agreed, but pronounced himself ready to set sail at once.

No sooner had the Arabella departed than Levasseur brought his ships into the lagoon, and set his crew to work upon the erection of temporary quarters ashore for himself, his men, and his enforced guests during the careening and repairing of La Foudre.

At sunset that evening the wind freshened; it grew to a gale, and from that to such a hurricane that Levasseur was thankful to find himself ashore and his ships in safe shelter.

CHAPTER XV.

The Ransom

In the glory of the following morning, sparkling and clear after the storm, with an invigorating, briny tang in the air from the salt ponds on the south of the island, a curious scene was played on the beach of the Virgin Magra, at the foot of a ridge of bleached dunes, beside the spread of sail from which Levasseur had improvised a tent.

Enthroned upon an empty cask sat the French filibuster to transact important business; the business of making himself safe with the Governor of Tortuga. Before him, guarded by two half-naked negroes, stood young d'Ogeron. Near at hand, and under guard, mademoiselle his sister sat hunched upon a hillock of sand. Levasseur addressed himself to M. d'Ogeron.

"I trust, monsieur," said he, with mock suavity, "that I have made myself quite clear. Your ransom is fixed at twenty thousand pieces of eight, and you shall have liberty on parole to go to Tortuga to collect it. Meanwhile, your sister remains with me as a hostage."

"I refuse—utterly and absolutely, do you understand? So do your worst, and be damned for a filthy pirate," cried d'Ogeron.

"Remember your sister's honour is in pawn to me. Should you forget to return with the dowry, you will not consider it unreasonable that I forget to marry her." M. d'Ogeron observed the grey despair that had almost stamped the beauty from her face.

"No, you dog. A thousand times, no!"

"I beg that you will spare yourself and your sister," said the Captain, "by being reasonable. I have been too modest. But since I have said twenty thousand pieces of eight, twenty thousand pieces it shall be."

"And for what, if you please, have you said twenty thousand pieces—of eight?"

Startled, Levasseur and his officers looked up and around. On the crest of the dunes behind them, in sharp silhouette against the deep cobalt of the sky, they beheld a tall, lean figure scrupulously dressed in black with silver lace, a crimson ostrich plume curled about the broad brim of his hat affording the only touch of colour. Under that hat was the tawny face of Captain Blood.

"Good morning, my Captain," said he, "it was last night's hurricane compelled our return. But who are these?"

Levasseur gnawed his lip, and changed colour. But he controlled himself to answer civilly:

"As you see two prisoners."

"Ah! Washed ashore in last night's gale, eh?"

Autos For Prince's
South African Tour

Seven Seated Car For Use In Nigeria Is Painted Scarlet

For the Prince's use during his South African tour six handsome touring cars are being sent out, five for the staff and one for himself. All are of 25-30 h.p. and they will be in charge of Mr. F. J. Small, who drove the Prince during his travels in India, Australia, and Japan. The Prince's own car, which Mr. Small will drive, is a five-seater, painted royal blue and upholstered in blue leather, with the Prince of Wales' crest on the doors and the three feathers in metal on the front of the car. For His Royal Highness's visit to Nigeria a huge seven-seater touring car, painted bright red, is being sent out. On the car will be prominently displayed His Royal Highness's crest, at the back and on the doors. Scarlet has been selected in preference to royal blue as being more impressive from the point of view of the West African natives.

Prize Winning Recipe
For Mornay Sauce

Montreal Lady Wins First Prize In Borden Recipe Club Contest

Miss Anita Davis, Montreal, has just been advised of her success in winning first prize in the 1924 Borden Recipe Club contest. This club, which is international in membership, has such a contest each year, open to all members, of whom there are approximately two hundred thousand. Miss Davis essayed a sauce recipe, the plan of the contest being for each contestant to compete in the classification in which she feels she excels. Her recipe follows:

Mornay Sauce—International Prize Winner

1/2 cup butter, 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoonful minced onion, 1/2 teaspoonful thyme, 1/2 bay leaf, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 teaspoonful white pepper, dash cayenne, 3 egg yolks, 1 cup white stock, 1 cup Borden's Evaporated Milk, 1/4 cup grated Canadian cheese, 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese.

In the top of a double boiler melt one-fourth cup butter; add onion and cook until yellow. Add the flour and stir until smooth. Combine milk and stock; pour gradually into the mixture, beating well with wire whip. Add seasonings and cook slowly for one hour. Strain, reheat, add cheese and let cook until cheese is melted. Cream remaining fourth cup butter. Beat in the egg yolks, gradually, one at a time; add slowly to sauce, mixing well, using care that water in lower part of boiler is not boiling.

This sauce is excellent for all au gratin dishes—crab meat, lobster, also fish, substituting fish stock for the white stock.

Any woman wishing to receive the Borden Recipe Book can write the Borden Company in Montreal, mentioning this paper, and she will be sent a copy free of cost.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MARCH 15

OUR LORD'S RESURRECTION

Golden Text: The Lord is risen indeed. Luke 24:34.

Lesson: John 20:1-18.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 16:5-11.

The Text Explained and Illumined

The Visit of Mary Magdalene to the Tomb of Christ, verses 1, 2. On Sunday, the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene came early to the tomb of Jesus. Mary Magdalene was from the village of Magdala north of Tiberias; see Mk. 16:9. What Jesus had done for her is told in Lk. 8:2. She had been one of those near the cross (Jo. 19:23; Lk. 8:2). There were others with her, as the "we" in the next verse indicates, and they had come to embalm the body of Jesus (Mt. 28:1; Mk. 16:1; Lk. 24:1, 10).

A stone had been placed over the entrance of the tomb (Mk. 15:46) and sealed (Mt. 27:66). It was probably a cylindrical stone which could be rolled to either side in a groove at the base of the opening. The women found the stone removed and Mary hastened away to tell Peter and John (John always refers to himself in his Gospel as "the disciple whom Jesus loved"), while the others evidently remained at the tomb and the events took place which are recorded in Mt. 28:5-8; Mk. 16:5-8; and Lk. 24:4-10. On meeting the two disciples Mary cried out anxiously, "They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they have laid Him."

Examining Steel By X-Rays

Apparatus Wanted to Detect Flaws Through Eight-Inch Thickness

At present X-rays can penetrate pieces of steel three inches thick. Professor Pullin, director of the radiological research department, Woolwich, Eng., told the Royal Society.

What was wanted, in order to detect flaws in castings which were a danger to men's lives, was apparatus to enable them to examine into castings of eight, ten or twelve inches thickness.

A transformer had been constructed rated at 400,000 volts, and what was now required was a tube capable of taking that voltage.

When that was found they would be able to penetrate eight inches of steel.

Canadian Motor Exports

Importance of This Growing Industry to the Dominion

Canada leads the world in automotive exports in proportion to production, domestic sales or ownership of motor vehicles or to that of population. Not relatively but absolutely the automotive exports of the Dominion are only exceeded by those of the United States. Since 1920 the motor vehicle exports of Canada have nearly doubled, the increase being from 9.8 per cent. to 17 per cent. of the automotive export trade of the world.
